

"For six years we have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in our family and feel we could not possibly do without it, especially for the children." (From a letter to Dr. Caldwell written by Mrs. Earl Cowell, Cement City, Mich.)

Children become constipated as readily as do their elders, and the result is equally distressing. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is ideal for children because of its pleasant taste, positive, yet gentle, action, and its freedom from opiates and narcotic drugs.

Turkey, too, will come off its perch before Thanksgiving.

The Kaiser might as well be looking around for his storm cellar.

That German myth about Foch having no reserve army is pretty thoroughly exploded by this time.

Although the Kaiser says he puts his trust in the Lord, it is evident to the American soldiers that his real trust is in barbed wire.

It will be a hard blow to Germany when she loses the seacoast of Belgium, for it was one of Germany's pet schemes to expand onto the North sea to the expense of Belgium and to the peril of Great Britain and France. When the land forces of the Kaiser are hurled out of Ostend and Zeebrugge it will be a sad day for the Hohenzollerns.

Communities which have not yet been seriously infested with the influenza epidemic should be planning what they will do when the disease makes its appearance among them. A great deal depends on whether prompt measures are taken to quarantine the first cases which appear in a town or city. It is probable that if the first cases are promptly placed under quarantine the spread of the disease can be virtually checked at the outset. On the other hand, if persons are allowed to come and go in the sick room and to pass out from the house of sickness to the house of health it will not be long before a whole community becomes filled with the disease. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

A PATRIOTIC DUTY AT HOME.

It may seem like a far cry to say that volunteering for service in an epidemic at home is an aid to winning the war; but it is nevertheless true that helping to regain normal conditions of health at home will go a long way toward winning the war because it will enable the people at home to continue their production for the sustenance of the soldiers abroad. Therefore, every person who volunteers to do his or her bit toward restoring normal health conditions is doing a very patriotic, as well as a very humanitarian, service. These volunteers are just as surely patriots as are the men who don the khaki or the women who put on the uniform of the Red Cross nurse. Therefore, in the present emergency in Barre it is to be hoped that the response to the urgent call for people to do service in the sick room will be very general and very prompt. The time of need is right this minute, and all who can devote an hour or so each day in caring for the sick should not hesitate.

PLAINFIELD

WATERBURY

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Roberts Honored on Golden Wedding Anniversary.

It was the privilege of those who knew Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Roberts to greet them at their home yesterday afternoon and evening to congratulate them upon 50 years married life. The ceremony was performed 50 years ago by Rev. H. W. Worthen, pastor at that time of the local Methodist church. This church has always been their church home and they have been faithful in work and attendance. The bride, Mary Deavitt, was born in Richmond 72 years ago last May, the daughter of William and Christina (Preston) Deavitt. When three years of age her parents moved to the Deavitt farm in Waterbury, near the Fallsides, where her brother, Daniel Deavitt, still lives. From this home she went when she was married to Luke J. Roberts, who was born in Duxbury 72 years ago in December, son of Edmund and Mary (Butler) Roberts. For many years they lived on a large farm on Perry hill. Twenty-five years ago they moved to Colbyville and since that time until Mr. Roberts sold to C. E. Nightingale, he has been actively and successfully engaged in the lumber business, being associated for some time with the Hon. G. W. Randall. In 1895 they moved to their present home. Beside the brother already mentioned, Mrs. Roberts has three sisters, Mrs. Esther Holmes, Mrs. Eveline Haseltine and Mrs. Nellie Barrows. The Hon. T. J. Deavitt of Montpelier was also her brother. Mr. Roberts had only one brother, James Roberts, who died a few years ago. Mrs. Roberts has many nieces and nephews, who honor and respect this worthy couple and who aided much in the success of the affair last evening. Those who assisted in making the day so happy were Mrs. George Morse, Mrs. Nellie Barrows, Mrs. Daniel Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Ward of Plymouth. Others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cavitt, Mrs. Phoebe Holmes and Frances Holmes of Montpelier and Mrs. Wesley White of Burlington. In the evening old-time songs were sung, recitations given by Miss Frances Holmes and a presentation speech by Rev. V. L. Smith and the tying of the knot again by Mr. Smith. Mr. Roberts responded very pleasantly. Refreshments were served and the bride's cake cut by Mrs. Roberts.
